

South Koreans Hang To Crest Of Bloody Hill

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR
SEOUL, Korea (P)—Chinese Reds regained three small knobs on the north slope of bloody White Horse Mountain today but failed to budge determined South Korean soldiers from the commanding crest.

The "stay-fight" troops of the Republic of Korea 9th Division prepared bunkers and threw up entrenchments in confident anticipation of renewed Chinese assaults. A front-line officer said OK positions were in better shape than they had been since the big battle started almost a week ago.

Chinese Lose 10,000
Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, predicted the savage fighting for the vital high ground commanding the sprawling Chorwon Valley may taper off.

Van Fleet told (P) correspondent Milo Farneti the Chorwon area has been a sensitive part of the front "but I don't think it will be any longer."

South Koreans estimate the Reds have lost more than 10,000 killed or wounded. Elements of three Chinese divisions have been used in the bitter struggle.

Van Fleet praised the South Korean troops and said they had done "a beautiful job" against "about the best" Chinese army on the front.

And he lauded Maj. Gen. Kim Chong Cho for "as fine a job as any divisional commander I have ever seen." Van Fleet made his comments at a divisional command outpost while touring the Western Front.

The fighting on and around White Horse was still the main action along the 155-mile battle-front.

To the east, a smaller but still bitter fight raged over possession of an outpost position. Chinese took the position in savage hand-to-hand battle last night. U. N. troops stormed back this morning.

Details were sketchy and conflicting but indicated the fighting was still going on at mid-day.

Flint Escapers Held In Lansing

LANSING (P)—Police captured two young escapers from the Flint jail today at an "old friend's" house but failed in an attempt to corner a third fugitive in Shiawassee county.

The captured pair, the brothers Claude Z. Smith, 22, and Lewis B. Smith, 23, were seized at 11:15 a. m. after a wild flight from an all-out chase by State Police.

Only minutes after their arrest on an anonymous tip, police reported they had trapped the third escapee, hardened Clifford Billings 34, in a barn north of Perry. They moved in cautiously with riot guns and tear gas bombs. But after sweeping through the barn, they found no Billings.

The Smiths and Billings fled from the Flint city jail Sunday morning, taking with them Marvin Begeman, an assistant turnkey, as hostage.

The Smiths said Billings engineered the escape with a .25 caliber automatic pistol. Lewis Smith said Billings groped them off in Lansing last night and drove in a car the trio stole in Bay City.

Market Closed

NEW YORK (P)—Financial and commodity markets throughout the United States closed today in observance of Columbus Day which fell on Sunday. However, some livestock reports were issued as usual by the Department of Agriculture.

I COULD NAME YOU A DOZEN REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE ON NOVEMBER 4, BUT THE MAIN ONE IS STILL THE SAME—IT'S YOUR DUTY!

UNSCCHEDULED STOP—Passengers aboard this Pacific Electric bus narrowly missed death when it was crowded off the road by the 48,000-pound butane truck in background, and plunged down a 40-foot embankment in Los Angeles. Driver of the vehicle nearly drowned when he was thrown through the windshield into water at foot of the embankment, and 13 of the passengers were injured.

Little Girl May Tell Who Killed Her Dad And 3 Other Children

CHESTER, Calif. (P)—Authorities today hoped a bloodstained lead pipe and a brutally beaten little girl would help them find the robber who beat a grocer and three other children to death near here Friday.

"I'm banking a lot on what the child will tell us," Sheriff M. H. Schooler said. "She's a bright little girl, way beyond her years."

Grocer Gard Young had taken the four children to Westwood on his weekly trip to withdraw money from the bank for Saturday's big check cashing business.

Some $7,100 Young withdrew is missing. Police said the slayer must have known of this routine and felt it necessary to bludgeon the children because they presumably recognized him.

Sondra was placed under guard at the hospital, officers said, on the theory the killer might try to remove her as a witness.

Three Arkansas men were detained for questioning yesterday at Albuquerque, N. M., because their eastbound car roughly resembled a blue Buick reported seen trailing Young's Friday. But New Mexico State Police Capt. Archie White said their story of having been in Las Vegas, Nev., gambling last week checked out and they probably would be freed today.

He finds sunshine is so injurious to people with certain types of skin that "pre-employment examinations for screening out persons with skins unsuitable for outdoor work will probably in time become essential."

He points out premature aging of the skin occurs in people whose work or pleasure exposes them to sunlight over long periods. Exposed skin becomes leathery, wrinkled, inelastic, freckled and dotted with small lesions which may develop into cancer. The low-affected and Waisman advised protecting it with a handkerchief tied across the lower part of the face or with a small piece of tissue paper stuck to it.

He said cancer of the skin is much more common in the South than in the North and "it is safe to say that the incidence in Florida is at least five times that in Northern states."

Blonds and redheads are much more susceptible to skin cancer than brunettes, Waisman found. Probably the best insurance against it is to be born of brown-eyed parents and have brown eyes oneself. Most of those who develop the disease have light-colored eyes. The condition is practically absent among Negroes and Indians.

Costa Rica President Returns Amid Cheers

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (P)—Cheering thousands welcomed Otilio Ulate Blanco back as president of Costa Rica yesterday.

Ulate stepped down from the presidency Sept. 26 in the midst of a controversy over the conduct of five Costa Rican police officials.

Later, Vice President Alberto Oreanimo, acting chief of state, told Ulate a congressional investigating committee had given his administration a clean bill of health and the charges against the five police officials were "unfounded."

Sonic Speed Airliner Designs Submitted

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Designs for a new American jet transport to carry more than 100 passengers at a speed approaching 600 miles per hour have been presented to Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president and general manager of Eastern Air Lines.

Robert Gross, president, and a group of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. engineers conferred with Rickenbacker on the proposed "sonic speed" airliner.

Campaign Costs Are Estimated At 75 Million

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) estimated today that the two major parties spend "not far from 75 million dollars" between them on campaign costs at all levels in presidential year.

Douglas said small contributors furnish only a minor fraction of the funds, and that the big donors, return for their money.

Limits Proposed

Douglas proposed three remedies in his new book, "Ethics in Government," published today by the Harvard University Press.

He said small contributors should be encouraged to give greater financial support to candidates and parties; a limitation of perhaps 10 cents per registered voter should be set on the campaign spending for presidential and congressional candidates; and consideration should be given to "moderate" community support of the campaigns out of tax money.

The Illinois senator estimated a House member has to spend a minimum of $10,000 on is campaign in a closely contested district, and more commonly two or three times that amount. For a senator from a fairly large state, he set the necessary cost at from $150,000 to $200,000.

Code Drawn Up

Douglas's book, based on a series of lectures he delivered at Harvard last January, recommended the setting up of a "code of ethical proprieties" to which public officials would be expected to conform, subject to dismissal from office for violation.

This code, as drawn by a Senate subcommittee which Douglas headed, would forbid:

1. Engaging in any personal business transactions or private arrangement for personal profit based upon the official position or confidential information of the official.
2. Accepting any valuable gift or favor from any person or organization with which the official transacted government business.
3. Discussing future employment outside the government with

Coal Strike Grows As Employers Fail To Hand Out Raise

By NORMAN WALKER
CINCINNATI (P)—John L. Lewis was expected to make known his stand on the presidential political race today as sessions of the 41st United Mine Workers Convention were resumed.

A slowly growing strike of coal miners and politics were the chief subjects ticketed for comment by the union's president before convention adjournment next Wednesday.

Await WSB Approval

The strike started Friday when several hundred miners at a Peabody Coal Co. mine near Harrisburg, Ill., walked out. Other Peabody mines in Illinois and Indiana were due to join the walkout today, boosting to about 5,000 the number of idle.

The men refused to work when given paychecks lacking the $1.90 a day pay raise Lewis recently negotiated for the miners. Employers throughout the soft coal industry have taken the position that, although they are ready and willing to pay the higher wages, they may not do so until the government approves the pay raise.

Old Cactus Jack Will Not Bolt Party In Texas

By DAVE CHEAVENS
DALLAS (P)—A pencil-scratched note from rugged old John N. (Cactus Jack) Garner today bolstered Texas Democrats battling to keep the state in line for Adlai Stevenson.

The former vice president, one-time power in national and state politics, wrote House Speaker Sam Rayburn here that he would vote the Democratic ticket Nov. 4 from top to bottom. It was Garner's first public dip into politics since he retired as vice president more than a decade ago.

Wears Brass Collar

Rayburn released Garner's scribbled announcement one day ahead of Dwight D. Eisenhower's invasion of this Democratic stronghold.

The Garner statement was quickly discounted by Republican leaders busy with last-minute plans for Eisenhower's campaign swing through his native state starting tomorrow.

"John Garner is a brass-collar Democrat. That's what he always has been and will be," said Alvin H. Lane of Dallas, chairman of the Republican State Executive Com-

Polio Strikes Pastor's Family

MILTON, W. Va. (P)—Polio today took the life of a young Presbyterian minister whose wife and only child also are in the hospital with the disease.

The Rev. Meade F. Degges, 26, his wife and their 22-month-old son all became victims of the disease within a few days, the baby Francis was rushed here from his home in Greenville a week ago yesterday. Last Friday, Mrs. Elizabeth Degges, 28, came down with the disease.

And on Saturday pastor Degges was taken to Morris Memorial Hospital here with the worst form, bulbo-spinal polio.

He was put in an iron lung and a doctor listed his condition as critical. Mrs. Degges and the baby were reported in good condition and improving.

Santiago Shaken

SANTIAGO, Chile (P)—A prolonged earth tremor early today frightened residents here in Chile's capital.

First reports indicated there were no casualties or any material damage.

NEW POLIO WEAPON — Dr. Herold R. Cox, above, has announced the discovery of a new, relatively simple method of producing a vaccine which could be "the greatest single technique advance in whipping polio."

It was taken for granted by union delegates that a full industry-wide strike could be expected if the WSB turns thumbs down on the pay raise, or approves only part of it.

Lewis was represented as wanting it stressed the walkouts were in no way to be considered as union pressure on the government.

Not Union Pressure

The increase was effective Oct. 1 and it seemed clear more and more miners will join the strike when their paychecks appear without the added money. However, some payrolls won't be due for at least 10 days from now, making a complete strike unlikely for a while.

Others who talked with the general were Ralph Cate, former Oregon national committeeman, and Barrak T. Mattingly of Missouri, former general counsel for the Republican National committee.

The three arrived in Denver late yesterday, but kept quiet on the subject of their talks.

Eisenhower Heads For Southland And Home Stretch Drive

By DON WHITEHEAD
ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL (P)—Dwight D. Eisenhower headed into the home stretch drive for the presidency today by pointing his final appeals toward the Democratic Southland and the vote-rich industrial East.

With only three weeks to go before election, the GOP candidate took on a whirlwind schedule crammed with speechmaking, conferences and strategy huddles on which his command based their hopes for victory Nov. 4.

Off At Dawn

His campaign caravan took off by plane at dawn today for appearances in Casper and Cheyenne, Wyo., Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla., and finally a night speech in New Orleans.

Sunday, Eisenhower held an unannounced conference with Herbert Brownell, who was campaign manager for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1944-48 presidential fights.

He also helped engineer the Eisenhower nomination in Chicago at the GOP National Convention.

Others who talked with the general were Ralph Cate, former Oregon national committeeman, and Barrak T. Mattingly of Missouri, former general counsel for the Republican National committee.

The three arrived in Denver late yesterday, but kept quiet on the subject of their talks.

Demand For Truman

Secretary of Labor Tobin said yesterday Eisenhower will pay the price of losing New York for embracing Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana, detractors of Eisenhower's old friend and military preceptor, Gen. George C. Marshall.

Former Sen. Francis J. Myers reported that "thing slook pretty good" for Stevenson in vital Pennsylvania.

Wyatt said widespread requests have been received from local Democratic organizations for appearances of President Truman in their areas.

Independents Wooded

He made it plain he thinks the Democrats are beginning to harvest "extremely substantial" support from the independent vote.

He told reporters that National Committee members and volunteer workers indicate there is a wave of desertions from Eisenhower's cause.

He said that "I Used to Like Ike" groups were being formed because of "disillusionment" with the general's campaign tactics, this "disillusionment," he said, is "based on the compromises, the shifts of position and the abandonment of principles that they felt before were emphatically held by him."

American Plane Disappears After Border Incident

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

MOSCOW (P)—Russia has charged that a U. S. B-29 bomber shot at Soviet fighter planes over Russian Far Eastern territory Tuesday and said the Red pilots returned the fire. The incident occurred the same day the U. S. Air Force reported one of its Superforts missing off Japan.

A Soviet note to the United States, formally protesting the alleged border violation, said the American plane "disappeared in the direction of the sea" after the Russians shot back. The text of the note was published by the Communist party newspaper Pravda and was broadcast by Moscow radio.

Carried No Guns

In Tokyo, a U. S. Air Force spokesman said the missing American plane "carried no guns and no gunners" among its crew of eight. The Air Force previously had announced the bomber, flying a training trip, was last seen on a radar screen within Japanese waters. It disappeared from the screen when its path crossed that of an unidentified plane approaching from the Russian-occupied Kurile Islands, officers said.

The Soviet note charged that the U. S. Bomber "violated the Soviet state frontier" Oct. 7 in the "area of the island of Yuri." Yuri is one of the Kurile Islands, 1 miles from the northernmost Japanese island of Hokkaido.

Ordered To Land

The American craft fired on two Soviet fighter planes that ordered it to land, the note continued, and "when the Soviet fighters returned the fire, the American plane disappeared in the direction of the sea."

Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi Pushkin handed the note to Elim O'Shaughnessy, acting U. S. charge d'affaires, on Sunday.

The note said:

Adlai Aides Think He Has Ike On Run

By JACK BELL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Associates of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson believe the Democrats have Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the run and will win next month's election with a great surge of support from the independent voters.

This view, sketched publicly by Campaign Manager Wilson Wyatt at a news conference yesterday, is shared privately by almost all of the Democratic presidential nominee's advisers. A number of Democrats have publicly voiced their optimism. Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas has predicted that the Illinois governor will carry the South and the border states.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (P)—It was just a quiet Sunday at the V. L. Smith home until a water main burst.

Then a 250,000-gallon flood inundated the yard and poured six inches deep through the house for an hour and a half yesterday.

Neighbors helped the Smiths build a plank and dirt dam to divert some of the flow until waterworks employees cut it off.

"I think I dipped up 250,000 gallons of water in the living room alone," Mrs. Smith said when told of a waterworks official's estimate. "The water in the rest of the house we got out with mops and brooms. Or at least we're getting it out. We'll still be trying to clean the mud off sometime next week."

Morenus' Book Recounts Bush Country Adventures

Richard Morenus, author of "Crazy-White-Man", has in his first book combined personal experience and tales of the Canadian bush country with a flair for knowing what makes good story material.

More than an "escape" book, "Crazy-White-Man" gives a not always pleasing insight into the lives and conditions of the backwoods whites and Indians of the Ontario wilds where life is rugged and the tourist gains only a superficial glance at an area Morenus studied for six years—winter and summer.

His decision to take up a new life in the Canadian wilds may have been prompted by too much civilization. He moved from New York City in 1940, leaving a successful radio script writing job behind, facing into what he fondly hoped would be a quiet life about which he could write in the soul-stirring solitude of the wilderness.

Gusto and Humor

That he worked at splitting wood and repairing the leaky roof of his cabin on an island in the lake while his typewriter grew rusty is typical of his experiences. Nature, he found, was not a smiling dame but a scowling harrier—until he learned how to tame her.

These experiences he has set down with gusto and engaging humor. There is a minimum of dramatics in recounting what must undoubtedly have been highly dramatic encounters with half-savage sled dogs, the Indians, and wild animals.

His tales about trappers, the Indians, and others whose lives are dedicated to fighting the never-ending battle of the bush have, in many respects, the timeless fascination of folklore.

Author Known Here

"I had gone into the bush with a certain amount of cocky self-assurance and overconfidence. The chastening process had begun abruptly and had been complete. The learning had come more slowly, but was nonetheless thorough. Now that I was ready to leave, I felt I had begun to acquire a fullness of understanding, a sympathy for the interpretation of the bush, as nearly as any human could with its myriad facets. I found I was genuinely sorry to go."

Morenus' book will be received in Northern Michigan with more than usual interest. Portions of the work were completed while Morenus was writing in Escanaba and appeared in "Sports Afield" magazine.

In Escanaba Morenus was for a time program director of WDBC, taught writing in University of Michigan extension courses here and in other Upper Peninsula cities.

He is now commercial manager for radio station K1HO, Sioux Falls, S. D.—C. B. Dunathan. ("Crazy-White-Man", Richard Morenus, Rand McNally, Chicago, $3.75).

Escanaba Teachers Will Confer With Reading Consultant

Escanaba teachers will confer this week with a Chicago reading consultant.

Miss Louise Gersbacher, who represents the book company which publishes reading textbooks used in Escanaba schools, will meet this afternoon with Escanaba primary teachers.

Tomorrow, after classes, she will hold conferences with teachers of intermediate grades, and Wednesday afternoon she'll confer with Escanaba Junior and Senior high school faculty members.

Miss Gersbacher attended the pre-school conference here this fall. Her conferences this week will cover the teaching of reading and special reading problems.

In November, Escanaba teachers are to confer with an arithmetic consultant.

Drunk Driving Costs Motorist $100 Fine

Albert Swanson, 45, of 1412 Second Ave. N., Escanaba, pleaded guilty in Justice Caroline A. Nystrom's court Saturday afternoon to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and paid a fine of $100 and costs of $8.25.

Under state statute his driver's license is automatically revoked. Escanaba police arrested Swanson early Saturday after Swanson's car struck and damaged a parked car in the 600 block, South 18th street, owned by Harold Winchester of 617 South 18th street.

Youths Charged With Assault

Donald Provo and William Thennis, Escanaba youths held in connection with an attack on a teen-age girl Thursday morning, were arraigned Saturday afternoon on charges of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder.

Provo, 21, waived examination on the count and was remanded to the county jail to await arraignment in Circuit Court.

Thennis demanded a preliminary hearing which was set for Friday, Oct. 17 and was also returned to the county jail.

Bond for each of them was set at $5,000.

The charges were based on information supplied by the girl Saturday to Sheriff William E. Miron.

The youths had previously been held on open charges pending interrogation of the girl who is under medical treatment in St. Francis Hospital.

Another youth arrested the morning after the assault, John McGillis Jr., 20, entered in his Saturday arraignment a plea of not guilty to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

He was released on bond of $100 to assure his appearance in Justice Court Nov. 10. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Caroline Nystrom.

The condition of the 17-year-old girl is reported satisfactory. She is continuing to receive treatment in St. Francis hospital.

O. Turan, Perkins, Arrested For Drunk Driving Sunday

Orville L. Turan, 28, of Perkins was arrested yesterday afternoon for driving under the influence of liquor after he sideswiped a car near Perkins and rolled his car over.

He received cuts and bruises of both knees in the accident which occurred one-half mile north of Perkins on county road G-3 at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Turan told Michigan State Police that the sideswipe caused him to lose control of his car which then ran off the road and overturned. The vehicles were traveling in opposite directions.

The driver of the other auto, Theresa Mae Johnson, also of Perkins, was uninjured.

Turan's automobile was described as a "total wreck". In arraignment this morning before Justice A. T. Sohlberg in Gladstone, Turan was fined $50 and ordered to pay costs of $4.30 after pleading guilty to the charge. His driver's license was also suspended.

49th Polio Case Is Reported Here

Delta County's 49th polio case was reported to the Delta-Menominee health department today.

The latest case is a six-year-old youngster, Lester Lake, son of the Frank Lakes, of Isabella.

He was taken to St. Luke Hospital in Marquette by ambulance this morning, from St. Francis Hospital here, where he was admitted Oct. 11.

Another recent polio case, that of Mrs. Albert Tibergien, 31, of 1502 Wisconsin avenue, Gladstone, has been placed in a respirator at St. Luke Hospital in Marquette. She has extensive paralysis. Mrs. Tibergien, mother of three children, was taken to the Marquette hospital Friday.

Her oldest son, Paul Tibergien, is under medical observation because of a fever. He is at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tibergien, 1420 Wisconsin avenue, Gladstone. The other two Tibergien children are reported well by the family physician.

Chest Army Ready To Start Campaign

The "advance guard" of the Delta County Community Chest campaign "army" of solicitors took off this morning, and plans are rapidly being completed throughout the county to begin the full-scale drive Wednesday, October 15.

Appointment of Wallace Cameron, superintendent of Gladstone public schools, as Gladstone city chairman to succeed A. B. Ellingson completed the county organization and set the stage for the all-out campaign to raise $20,000.

That represents the amount approved by the executive committee of the county's Community Chest council to finance the work of six health and welfare agencies within Delta county in 1953. Recipient agencies are the Michigan Children's Aid, Cod Liver Oil Fund, Salvation Army, Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Support Campaign

Civic leaders wholeheartedly endorsed the successful campaign in 1951 which went "over the top" and provided an emergency fund in addition to sufficient funds to meet budgets of the six agencies.

They again endorse the Red Feather (Community Chest) drive as the best possible solution to the problem of raising welfare funds.

"Give Generously"—The Community Chest drive does the work of six separate campaigns" is the battle cry of the large army of solicitors in Escanaba, Gladstone and throughout the 14 townships of the county.

When solicited Wednesday and later during the campaign ending November 1, all residents of the county are asked to remember that they are contributing for six separate agencies and eliminating five other drives and therefore should give accordingly.

Efficient Campaign

"The efficient campaign conducted by the Community Chest is the only answer to the problem of taking care of the needy and improving the health and welfare of all who benefit from the work of the six agencies in Delta county," Dr. A. A. Gossan, county chairman, declared this morning.

"It stands to reason that persons would rather be solicited only once rather than six or more separate times," he said. "Therefore, the support of all residents to achieve this goal is needed. Everybody benefits—everybody gives! That is the national theme in this important campaign."

Bruce Brackett, Escanaba city chairman, announced this morning that Fred Saykally had been named assistant city chairman.

"I want to help in any and every way possible to make this campaign a complete success, and I think every resident should feel the same way," Saykally said. "This is a community responsibility, the responsibility of every resident of the community."

First To Volunteer

Saykally is a member of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Elks Club and the Knights of Columbus. He has helped in previous Red Cross campaigns and has been active in community affairs. He was the first person to volunteer for work in this year's Chest drive.

Paper Company Pay Approved

The Michigan Wage Stabilization Board has approved double time and one-half pay for six holidays worked by hourly-rated employees of Escanaba Paper Co., Escanaba, Mich., it was announced today by M. S. Ryder, regional WSB chairman.

The Northern Peninsula company previously granted four paid holidays per year for which double time and a half was paid to employees who worked those holidays. The current decision adds Thanksgiving Day and Memorial Day to the list.

The majority of members of the tripartite Regional Board also approved a proposed plan calling for three days funeral leave with pay in the event of death in an employee's immediate family. Ryder explained that WSB Regulation 13, Revised, provides for approval of fringe benefits which are clearly of minor cost and which will not be destabilizing.

The petition asking Wage Board approval of the adjustments which affect 569 employees was filed jointly by company officials and representatives of three AFL affiliates, Electrical Workers, Pulp and Sulphite Workers, and Paper Workers.

Omer Tanguay Is Elected To Commission

In the opening session of the county board of supervisors meeting this morning Omer Tanguay of Bark River was elected county road commissioner to replace Harry Greene, Garden, on the expiration of his term.

The supervisors voted 13 to 8 for Tanguay over the only other nominee, Harry Greene. Tenure of the office is six years.

Tanguay resigned last week as Bark River supervisor after serving 17 years on the township board and as supervisor.

Replaced By Bergman

He is being replaced on the county board, by Edwin Bergman of Bark River. Bergman was received on the board of supervisors today after his certification was presented to the county by the township board.

In other action this morning, several communications were read by the county clerk and referred to the proper committees for action.

Requests for contributions channeled to the finance committee included those from the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau for a donation to the Lure Book, from the state association of supervisors, from the Pinecrest Sanatorium, and from the Child Guidance Center of Marquette.

H. T. Brewer, a representative of the Gladstone Hospital Authority, appeared before the supervisors to request their authorization for the hospital committee to solicit funds in their areas for the proposed community hospital in Gladstone. He told supervisors that the authority must raise $300,000 through gifts and donations for the erection of the hospital.

Act On 1953 Budget

In this afternoon's session the board was to consider the proposed county budget prepared by the finance committee, and to hear the reports of the various committees on their studies of assigned communications and resolutions.

Supervisors answering roll call today were: L. J. Jacobs, Carl B. Johnson, Guy W. Knutson, Jacob Bink, Charles Schmidt, Edward Cox, Wesley Hansen, Archie Cowen, Michael G. LaPine, Bertha Carlson, Peder Pedersen, George Berg, Fred Holmes, Harold Gustafson (chairman), Henry Hughes, Howard Gierke, Chester Feak, Helen M. LaMotte, Walter Mannie, Allen T. Mercier, Charles Sedenquist and Edwin Bergman.

Adam Sinclair of Gladstone and Robert E. LeMire of Escanaba are absent due to business in Washington, D. C.

Two Men Killed In Menominee As Train Strikes Car

MENOMINEE—Two Menominee residents, Robert Bailey, 21, and Benjamin Dickman, 35, were killed Saturday at 5 p. m. CST, when the car in which they were riding was struck by C&NW train No. 224 at a crossing in Menominee.

The car, driven by Bailey, was hit by the front of the locomotive and tossed 71 feet into a ditch. Dickman was killed instantly of a broken neck and Bailey died ten minutes after he was taken to a hospital in Menominee.

Charles Sackerson, Escanaba, engineer said the train was traveling 35 mph and had whistled for the crossing, which was borne out by Menominee residents. Napoleon Morin was conductor and Philip Herro, trainman, both of Escanaba. The fireman's name was not reported.

Albert Taylor Jr. was released today from St. Francis hospital where he was a surgical patient and is recuperating at his home, 221 N. 12th St.

Escanaba Indoor Rink Extension Is Approved

Announcing its full approval of the long-term project to extend the Upper Peninsula State Fair exhibition building by 60 feet, the U. P. Fair Board Saturday gave the Escanaba Hockey Association permission to extend the ice rink within the present building by 25 feet.

This action was taken at the board's regular quarterly meeting in the U. P. Fair Administration building Saturday morning. The full board in attendance was composed of Victor Lemmer, Ironwood; Ben Miller, Hancock; Earl Allingham, Escanaba; John Niks, Munising, and John MacInnis, of Sault Ste. Marie, who as secretary-manager of the U. P. Fair is residing in Escanaba at present.

"The board is glad to cooperate with the Escanaba Hockey Association to continue bringing this fine winter sport to this area and to provide fans here with the faster brand of hockey in the Northern Michigan - Wisconsin league," MacInnis said.

Project Progressing

"In addition to clearing the way for a rink 25 feet longer this season, we are glad to be able to report progress in the project to extend the building by 65 feet," he added. "There are many obstacles to overcome in a project of this magnitude, but we are progressing."

In order to gain 25 more feet of length in the present exhibition building, the rink will be flooded from wall to wall on the north and south ends. Elimination of the north balcony also will permit the installation of two more bleacher sections at the north end, one on the east side and one on the west side. This will increase the seating capacity by from 300 to 400, making the overall capacity approximately 1,350.

The Escanaba Hockey Association, through its officers Emil

Zitner, president, and James G. Ward, Jr., secretary, this morning said that work would be started this week on extending the playing surface from 120 by 80 feet to 145 by 80 feet.

200x80 Is Goal

"This compares much more favorably with the 190 by 80 and 195 by 95 foot rinks that Marquette, Calumet, Houghton and Sault Ste. Marie have," Gust Asp, a director of the local hockey association, said.

"Our ultimate goal is to extend the exhibition building by 60 feet so that Escanaba will have a 200 by 80 foot rink to compare with other major cities in the Upper Peninsula."

Escanaba is a member of the Northern Michigan - Wisconsin Hockey league along with Calumet, Houghton and Marquette,

Gladstone Man Is Injured In Crash

Vernon Long, 1224 Superior Ave., Gladstone, suffered scalp lacerations and a slight concussion at 3:50 p. m. Saturday when the car in which he was a passenger ran off the Ogontz road and struck an embankment. Long is receiving treatment in St. Francis Hospital.

Robert Louis, 1126 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, driver of the car, was ticketed by State Police of the Gladstone post for failure to immediately report an accident in which a person was injured.

The accident occurred at 3:50 p. m. Saturday on a curve of the Ogontz road about one and one-half miles south of US-2. The men were on a hunting trip.

and it is anticipated that Eagle River, Wis., for many years a member of the league, will be added this season.

EHS Begins Hot Lunch Project

A new hot lunch program for students was begun today by Escanaba Senior High School.

Bus students and city students living 12 blocks or more from the school will be served under the new set-up. About 125 are expected to take advantage of the facilities.

New equipment, including a stove, refrigerator and dishes, has been purchased for the school unit. Mrs. Bina Clearmont is cook for the project and home economics students will serve.

One hot dish and milk will be served high school students from the new kitchen, located in the west wing of the first floor.

The hot lunch project was set up because of distances many students travel to classes.

Mental Health Play To Be Presented For Powers-Spalding PTA

POWERS—Speech students of Escanaba Senior High School will present a socio-drama titled "High Pressure Area" at the PTA meeting to be held in the Powers-Spalding school at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening.

The mental health play, directed by John Romstad of Escanaba, includes EHS students Ann Krantz, Betty Leiper, Mary Larson and Gary Grenholm in the cast.

Written to dramatize relationships between parents and children, it describes some of the more baffling aspects.

A short business meeting is scheduled and teachers will be present to meet parents and discuss questions with them. A social hour with refreshments will follow.

Editorials— Medical Field Is Open For U. P. Students With Required Ability

PROF. Wayne L. Whittaker, secretary of the University of Michigan Medical School, is visiting the Upper Peninsula this week with a message that should be of considerable interest to high school students, particularly to upper classmen.

Prof. Whittaker is touring the peninsula to encourage more students in this area to enter the U-M medical school. He points out that in the past four years only 31 Upper Peninsula students have entered the medical school, despite the fact that the Upper Peninsula suffers a scarcity of doctors.

Prof. Whittaker and the University of Michigan are doing an excellent service in this effort to get more students from the Upper Peninsula to enter the profession of medicine. It is particularly encouraging because the U-M Medical School, like most medical schools throughout the country, already receives many more applicants for admission than the school can handle.

However, the U-M Medical School recognizes the special problem of the Upper Peninsula in its scarcity of physicians and is inviting more applicants of ability from this area to apply for admission to the School of Medicine.

Undoubtedly, many well qualified students in the Upper Peninsula who may have been interested in medicine as a profession have failed to seek application for admittance to the U-M Medical School because they regarded their chances of being admitted too remote.

This then is an invitation that talented high school students in the Upper Peninsula cannot and certainly should not ignore. The opportunity is awaiting them. They are being invited.

The Upper Peninsula does need more doctors. Many communities are without the services of a doctor. Other communi-

Camp Fire Girls Need More Leaders

THE current Membership March being conducted by Camp Fire Girls in Delta County is an event that should claim the attention and interest of every thinking adult in the community. Camp Fire's drive to extend membership privileges to adult volunteers, as well as to more girls, is not just another campaign . . . it is an earnest invitation to all to join in a program that pays dividends in health, character-building, fun and friendship.

One of the distinctive features of Camp Fire is its emphasis on family participation. Mother, dad and daughter have a real place in its program. As they work and play together, sharing each other's ideas, they gain a greater realization of the fun that comes in growing together.

Growing together—spiritually, mentally and physically—should be an important part of American home life. As adults share in the hopes and aspirations of young girls and lend their guidance toward the pursuit of worthwhile ideals, they develop a greater sense of security which is transmitted to youth. As leaders and sponsors of Camp Fire groups, men and women in Delta County can make a substantial and lasting contribution to the welfare of growing girls.

The Bay de Noc Council of Camp Fire Girls are members of the Red Feather Agency.

People around here are just beginning to get their family cars back after extensive repairs. They figure it's a safe investment now that their teen-agers are anchored back in school.

The Doctor Says... Adjust to Idea of Retirement By Intelligent Planning Ahead

Part of a long letter from a reader will serve to introduce a most important subject. She writes:

"I learned early about how an inferiority complex develops by having to wear peculiar clothes, and by having no time for play or social adjustment. Another lesson that just came naturally was that if I intended to survive I was going to have to fight back occasionally. Is it any wonder that I soon developed a critical suspicious, distrustful dislike for people?"

This reader says she married at 19, has two sons, and now 23 years have passed. She adds:

"But now, with the boys away at school most of the time, my home is like a morgue and days drag, and I am wondering about what to do with the remaining 30 or so years of my life. I am really not so elderly that I can't develop new interests, even if I do wear glasses for reading, sewing and close work, but I have got to change my attitude toward people."

This reader presents a problem with which millions, roughly between the ages of 40 and 55, are faced in varying degrees. The busy years of raising children to the point where they are more or less independent and adult slip by rapidly, and

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Political notes from around the nation—the Democrats have had to do some quick house-mending. Sen. Bill Fulbright of Arkansas has been summoned to Springfield to smooth the ruffled feelings of various Dems who feel they've been slighted. Adlai hasn't had a chance to hold everyone's hand. Sens. Lister Hill of Alabama and Clinton Anderson of New Mexico are helping stroke down the ruffled fur . . . one rupture broke out in Florida when Sen. Spessard Holland, Democrat, threatened to bolt to Eisenhower, even though he led southern spokesmen in Chicago in pledging allegiance to the party. What happened was that Holland was sitting on his hands; so ex-Sen. Claude Pepper, noting the political vacuum, walked in and began to fill it. Pepper's work for Stevenson began to build an organization which might dominate the state . . . some Dems at Springfield figure they could save a lot of money if they just closed down Democratic National Headquarters in Washington. The entire campaign is being run from Springfield. Wilson Wyatt, not Stephen Mitchell, is the mastermind.

Along the route of the Truman train—Colorado is still considered a Republican state, despite Truman's recent whistle-stop at every hamlet along the Denver and Rio Grande RR . . . the fact that Ike spent nine weeks in Denver is hard to overcome, though he wasn't any great help to his own political leaders. During Ike's entire stay, he didn't once talk to the Republican state chairman, the Republican national committeeman or the Republican state central committee. Fishing, bridge and conferences with the National GOP occupied most of his time . . . Ike will sneak in a bridge game whenever he gets a chance, also hasn't lost his taste for "westerns." . . . Truman got squawks from local Democrats about the way the government was treating Colorado uranium miners. Joe Williams, candidate for governor and State Sen. Stephen McNichols complain that uranium miners can sell their ore to only two mills, United States Vanadium Corp., and the Vanadium Corporation of America, which won't let miners follow their ore through the mills to see if it's properly assayed. (Secrecy regarding uranium and the A-bomb is given as the excuse.) . . . miners aren't satisfied that they always get full pay, due to inability to check the assay. In the old days of gold-mining, a miner could always check the assay of his ore . . . independent uranium miners produce more than 60 per cent of the domestic uranium output, but, thanks to the secrecy of the Atomic Energy Commission, they are getting fed up.

Dewey and Ike—full story of Tom Dewey's private session with the General before the latter's endorsement of McCarthy is gradually leaking out. Dewey has kept completely in the background, but in this case had a three-hour session with Ike in New York, begged him to shun McCarthy. His reasons were that Ike would lose the independent vote, alienate far more people than he would win. Dewey told how he had gone to Illinois in 1948 against his better judgment to endorse Gov. Dwight Green and ex-Sen. Curley Brooks, two Chicago Tribune isolationists. It hurt him materially . . . Eisenhower listened attentively, finally agreed to cold-shoulder McCarthy . . . it is now known that Arthur Summerfield, plus Senators Ferguson of Michigan and Hickenlooper of Iowa, with Tom Coleman, McCarthy's campaign manager, conferred at the Hotel Washington next day, then flew to Ike's train in the midwest, got him to reverse his pledge to Dewey . . . Ike came into the press car of this train later to tell newsmen that McCarthy had not persuaded him to omit two paragraphs from his speech praising Gen. George Marshall. But what actually happened was that Chairman Summerfield, knowing that the praise of General Marshall was in the Milwaukee speech and figuring it would be considered a slap at McCarthy, sneaked McCarthy up a service elevator to the Pere Marquette Hotel at Peoria to Ike's suite. There McCarthy begged that Ike not praise Marshall at Milwaukee. The general finally concurred, struck out the two paragraphs . . . after the Milwaukee speech was all over, McCarthy groused privately that the General hadn't been cordial to him.

Cow-pasture politics—Genial Gov. Dan Thornton, the ex-cowboy, now running for re-election as governor of Colorado, is considered a good bet to be secretary of the interior if Eisenhower is elected . . . however, Dan may have a hard time getting re-elected himself. For one thing, the Tatt people are cool; likewise the veterans, because of his draft deferment on the ground he was in the cattle business. Finally, Dan has been out of the state so much that he's being called the absentee governor, and has held back on filing the number of days he was absent since May.

Questions and Answers

Q—What bird lays a flat egg?
A—The murre of the North Atlantic and North Pacific. It has no nest and the eggs are laid on the bare stone of the rocky cliffs. The egg is slightly flattened and pointed at the end so that it rolls in a small circle when it is disturbed, making it less likely to fall off the narrow ledges.

Q—Are all the participants who take part in the Olympic Games amateurs?
A—Yes.

Q—How is energy measured?
A—In foot-pounds, or the amount of energy it takes to lift one pound one foot.

Q—Who invented the metronome?
A—This instrument that beats time for musicians was probably invented by Winkel of Amsterdam, but was patented by the German, Johann Maelzel in 1816.

Q—According to legend, what became of King Arthur's sword Excalibur?
A—At Arthur's death, Sir Bedivere threw it back into the lake. A strange hand drew it below, and it was never seen again.

Q—When did the Eisenhower family come to America?
A—The family fled from religious persecution in Germany in the 1600's and settled in Switzerland. A hundred years later their descendants sailed to America and settled in Pennsylvania. Dwight Eisenhower's grandfather traveled to Kansas in a covered wagon.

Q—How many original copies of the Gutenberg Bible are extant?
A—According to the Library of Congress there are only 46 known copies left, and some are mere fragments.

Q—What "river" in Argentina is not really a river?
A—The Plata is sometimes called a river, but it is really a shallow, fresh-water bay into which the river system flows.

Q—When was the coonskin cap first used in a presidential campaign?
A—In the 1840 campaign of William Henry Harrison.

Industrial Revolution Seen In Peacetime Use Of Atomic Power

By DR. JOHN R. DUNNING
Dean of The School of Engineering, Columbia University

The recent talk of "push-button warfare" and the development of atomic weapons may have given rise to the thought that a "push-button peace" may not be too far distant.

But the prospect of a home owner heating and air-conditioning his house, operating the family washing machine and the family car and even mowing the lawn from power supplied by a lump of uranium in his cellar isn't an immediate prospect. Nevertheless, the general peacetime use of atomic power is nearer than he thinks.

The atomic energy field typifies great power and energy which can be used for human good or destruction. Man has always had to make a choice, even when he invented the axe, as to whether to use that axe to build a house or batter out his neighbor's brains. Man answered the question by using the axe for both. The enormous energy in a block of uranium dramatizes the same problem of choice simply on a larger scale.

The present U. S. atomic energy program is largely the stockpiling of fissionable fuels which can be used later either for war explosives or energy production. Basically, nearly everyone working in this field always has in the back of his mind that we are really working to use this atomic fission in all kinds of peacetime applications.

The real source of energy is in the tiny nucleus inside the atom. The problem is to find out more about this nucleus.

To do this, scientists the world over have been building larger and larger atom-smashers, or cyclotrons. We have one of the largest in the world at Columbia University. It's about the size of a banquet hall and weighs 5000 tons.

Its sole purpose is to make high speed atomic fragments serve as bullets to bombard other atoms and find out how their nuclei are made. This process has produced over 700 new synthetic kinds of atoms. Nature made only about 280 atom types.

Through the process, other metals can be changed to gold. Unfortunately platinum is the best starting material for this so it is not too successful economically.

However, uses of atomic energy in practical ways outside the research laboratory are constantly opening up. Nuclear power plants for submarines and ships are being developed. The released energy in a one-inch cube block of uranium is enough to drive a ship across the Atlantic and back.

A few months ago, the announcement of the end of the first phase of the application of uranium power to aircraft propulsion was made, and the first units are being designed by aircraft companies.

These developments in transportation are conditioned by the fact that U-235 chain reactions at high power levels give off a large amount of radiation. The nuclear reactors must be surrounded by

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. John R. Dunning of Columbia University, author of this report on atomic energy, was chief nuclear physicist on the scientific development which was the foundation for the construction and operation of the gaseous diffusion plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Paducah, Ky., and the new Ohio River plant. These plants, which separate U-235, are a major factor in the nation's atomic program.

DR. JOHN R. DUNNING: Atomic power plants to produce hops 30 to 50 tons. Because of this, atom-powered automobiles and lawnmowers are some distance in the future.

Atomic power plants to produce a number of feet of shielding, which makes such power devices have a minimum weight of per-electricity and to operate industrial factories are approaching realization. Four industry teams are working on the best design for such atomic power plants, which will not only be able to produce power, but may also produce appreciably more new atomic fuel than is actually burned.

Even now, the production of this atomic power is cheaper than aviation gasoline. U-235 costs perhaps $10,000 to $20,000 a pound, but compared to the cost of coal of equivalent energy content, the cost of the energy would be around $10 per ton and maybe eventually as low as $2 a ton.

While there may never be an atomic reactor in every cellar, it is certainly probable that when you toggle the switch on your electric toaster the toast will pop up, browned to a turn by power from atomic energy.

Our present achievements are based squarely on the use of energy. We are almost on the threshold of a new industrial and social revolution based on this new source of energy. All of this mechanization, as we look into the atomic age, provides a broad base for the development of the finest aspects of man.

WORK FOR HANDICAPPED—Last week was Employ the Handicapped Week, a national observance dedicated to the proposition that physically handicapped persons are still people—and should have the opportunity to earn a living.

We didn't get around to commenting on Employ the Handicapped Week until this week, but that is of small consequence. For there are 52 weeks in every year when employers can successfully employ those who are handicapped.

"He is one of the best workmen we have," is the usual endorsement of the handicapped worker by his employer.

By the same token it should be noted that an irresponsible and slovenly workman will not become a good worker, no matter how serious his handicap.

WITHOUT EMOTION—No man who has had his fingers, or arm or a leg amputated wants to feel that he being given work because an employer "feels sorry" for him.

He wants to stand on his own two feet—even if one is an artificial foot.

There is no need of maudlin sympathy in the treatment of the handicapped. They do not want it. In fact they resent it deeply.

But given opportunity to work in surroundings and under conditions adapted to the handicapped they will make every effort to produce to the maximum of their ability.

HOME FROM THE WAR—In World War II and in the present conflict in Korea the number of amputees has been reduced below those who are casualties in earlier battles. Medical science, moving right up into hospital tents behind the front lines, has seen to that.

But there are many handicapped men coming home from the war and employers are taking an increasing interest in their rehabilitation—if that is the right word for it. Better yet, let's call it providing the handicapped with an opportunity to make a living.

No one wants to be an object of charity. Certainly no man who has fought and lost an arm or leg for his country wants to spend the rest of his life playing hero on the dole. He does want, more than anything else, a chance to prove that he is just as good as the next fellow.

And this is what the U. S. Army Hospitals are striving to do. That they have succeeded so well in so many cases is a tribute to their doctors, physical therapists, and occupational therapists.

NO PEG LEGS—Improvement in the manufacture of artificial limbs has now made possible aids successfully used by the amputee to dance, ride, drive cars, walk up and down stairs, bowl, and do most of the things the average man can do.

Certainly it has eliminated the so called "peg leg look" that once set every amputee apart from his fellows. His posture is good, he can walk without the assistance of canes, and the more adept even learn to run and skip rope.

With these skills the amputee feels prepared to meet the world on his own terms. You don't have to feel sorry for him, because he is not sorry for himself.

TAKING THEIR PLACE—Finding work for the handicapped—and this includes every person with a physical disability—is one of the major accomplishments in restoring them to lives of service and self-respect.

On the job these handicapped persons often perform better than do their whole-limbed fellows. They have a feeling of competition. They work hard to assure their employer that his confidence in them is not misplaced.

In this industrial age there are many opportunities for employment of the handicapped at machines in factories and offices. Finding the right man for the right job is, however, as important for the handicapped as it is for anyone else.

The type of work must appeal to his liking and maintain his interest. Some persons, handicapped or otherwise, abhor routine jobs; others dislike variety and the necessity for change.

Put a good man in the right job and an employer will find the work well done—whether that good man has one leg or two.

Sometimes one gets the notion that the way to increase one's vocabulary is by the acquisition of a number of long words—words of four, five, or six syllables, words like sesquipedalianism (SES-kwi-pe-DAY-lee-un-izm), nice word to have lying around loose, but one which you can't bring into the conversation very often. It means the use of long words, literally a foot and a half long, from Latin sesqui, a half, and pes, foot. No, most of our conversation is carried on with short words—words of one or two syllables—and I have no doubt that you would find good use for a number that are not at present in your vocabulary.

Take the word spate. It's not in frequent use, though it could be, and when it is used it is most effective. It means a sudden flood, such as that resulting from a violent rainfall or cloudburst. But how apt that word is when it is used to describe a flood of words, a spate of words, bursting from someone whose indignation has been held in as long as he or she can stand it. It fits perfectly.

Then there's fulsome (FULL-sum). This too, is not in such frequent use as it could be. Originally, many years ago, it meant just what is implied by its two parts, considerably full, too abundant. Then, when applied to one who had eaten too much, its meaning became disgustingly full, and now we use it in the sense of disgusting or offensive, especially to that which is offensive to good taste. It expresses the kind of disgust you feel when someone starts to heap flattery upon you or to tell you how much he admires you. You know his words to be insincere, and very properly you call it fulsome flattery or fulsome praise.

Canadian Government Is Defeated By Ripple Rock

By FRANCIS DICKIE

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(NEA)—Hon. Alphonse Fournier, Minister of Public Works, finally shrugged his shoulders.

"My department has given up," he said.

And with his shrug, Fournier and the Canadian government conceded defeat. Ripple Rock, which stands in the Seymour Narrows between Vancouver Island and the Quadra Islands, was grimly triumphant over a nation. There was, Fournier said, no way to dispose of this menace.

From the $200,000,000-worth of Pacific Ocean shipping that yearly must pass through this main seaway, Ripple Rock takes a heavy toll in men, ships and cargoes.

The rock, 100 feet in diameter, lies nine feet below the low-tide mark—a hidden hazard to keels and propellers. Only at high tide are the narrows completely navigable.

But at high tide the rock sets up counter-currents in the fast-running water, relentlessly piling ships to destruction. Gigantic whirlpools—40 feet across—churn about the rock, swallowing small craft and paralyzing large vessels.

In 150 years, Ripple Rock has numbered among its victims scows, yachts, fishing trawls, passenger ships, freighters and battleships.

Damage was estimated in the tens of millions of dollars, and hundreds of lives were lost, but no move was made to destroy Ripple Rock. The British Admiralty

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Thousands of shipping hours had been lost as vessels waited for calm waters. Boards of Trade, shipping companies, fishing unions and even the governments of Canada and the United States were stopped from touching Ripple Rock.

Each move met the same resistance: Vancouver Island residents would withdraw from the Canadian Dominion if the Rock were destroyed. Ripple Rock, they said, was an absolute necessity in supporting a 2000-foot bridge connecting Vancouver with the mainland.

But by 1943 Vancouver's resistance had crumbled and the Canadian government appropriated half a million dollars to destroy the rocky monster. A barge with an 80-foot drill went into the battle, armed with 250 tons of anchor on steel cable as thick as a man's arm.

Within a week, however, the anchors had been swept down the roaring water as Ripple Rock snapped the cables. The barge, floundering like driftwood, could not keep the drills in place. Work was abandoned.

In 1945 Canada tried again. This time the drill was suspended above the foaming narrows. All Summer skilled riggers hovered over the rock, and by October they had to give up.

Television Humor No Laughing Matter

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Today let's talk about humor on television, which is apparently no laughing matter.

This week I had a chat with Milton Berle, the longtime (four years) Mr. Television and first major comic to find gold in TV. He had some sage comments about the serious difficulties of being funny. But I think his most apt remark was: "You can't be buff every minute."

Jokes Worn Out

I am a lover of the titter, snicker, giggle, yock, guffaw, belly-laugh and boffola. What amazes me is the fact that I can sit through an hour-long TV comedy show and not crack a smile. Even now, with all the big comedy shows making their fall debuts, there is little on TV that is really funny.

I think Brother Berle hit on the trouble. "You can't be buff every minute." Nor perhaps every week. And maybe not every month.

In the 19th century, humorists like Mark Twain could write a few words and live off them for the rest of their lives. Then the focus of humor shifted to the vaudeville stage. Comics could operate the same act for 10 or 20 years without wearing out their welcomes on the various circuits.

Spread Too Thin

But the age of mechanized entertainment spelled trouble for humor.

Radio provided an almost insatiable appetite for comedy. Stars hired large stables of writers. The end result was an impersonal, machine-age type of comedy that provided little laughter.

Now that the novelty is wearing off TV, it is experiencing the same dearth of real comedy. Comics are spreading themselves too thin.

Red Skelton is doing a weekly TV show, another on radio and shooting a movie for theaters at the same time. Bob Hope will be doing a daily radio show, a weekly one, plus occasional TV shows and movies. Milton Berle holds the TV screen for an hour three times a month.

New Era Sighted

It's impossible for them to be funny all of the time. Even the great Jimmy Durante doesn't always hit the mark, and he's on TV only once a month.

There's one hopeful note: the age of slapstick appears to be passing in TV. The story shows are taking over. On the heels of "I Love Lucy," we find such newcomers as Ozzie and Harriet, Our Miss Brooks, the Joan Davis Show, "My Little Margie," etc., etc. Also the wonderful Mr. Peepers show, which should be revived.

Let's hope the situation comedy shows can find a higher level of comedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Euretto of Marquette are parents of an 8 pound, 1 ounce baby girl born Oct. 7. Her name is Mary Joan. Mrs. Euretto is the former Frances Oak-en.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Smith returned after spending a few days at Ironwood. Mrs. Smith's niece, Miss Dorothy Brownell accompanied them home.

Ovid Swisher Jr. returned to his home Wednesday from Fort Custer where he was discharged.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shay left for Chicago Wednesday.

Mrs. John Lustila Jr. and daughter Vickie have moved back to their home here from Blaney Park where Mrs. Lustila was employed for the summer.

Poor - Fair Luck For Bird Hunters

LANSING (AP)—Despite a bountiful supply of partridge, hunters have had only poor to fair luck so far this hunting season, the State Conservation Department reported today.

The department said its field reports showed that high winds, heavy foliage and dry weather have hindered hunting success in the northern half of the lower peninsula.

Hunters have been fewer than normal during the past week, although large numbers turned out on the opening weekend for fair results.

Bow and arrow hunting conditions generally were fair and the number of hunters slightly more than normal. Missaukee County reported the heaviest concentration of archers in history, with success fair to good.

Success on local ducks was fair to good. Best results have been reported on the Indian River, Fletcher floodwaters and Saginaw Bay, plus potholes adjoining larger bodies of water.

Negro Driver Runs Up Traffic Violations

BALTIMORE (AP)—Police yesterday placed the following traffic charges against Robert Rinegold, 24, Negro, of Baltimore:

Ignoring 21 red lights and three stop signs, reckless driving, going the wrong way on a one-way street, failure to identify himself after an accident, failure to obey police signals, exceeding 70 miles per hour, having no driver's license or car registration in his possession.

Officers quoted Rinegold as giving this explanation after the chase that led to his arrest:

"I lost my wallet tonight so I don't have any identification or anything on me and I was afraid if the police stopped me I'd get into trouble."

Lutherans Adopt Revised Bible

SEATTLE (AP)—The United Lutheran Church in America was committed today to support inclusion in its liturgy of the new revised standard version of the Bible—a decision made after three hours of argument and prayer last night.

Delegates to the 18th biennial meeting of the largest group in the Lutheran family voted 343 to 198 to request the Joint Commission on the Liturgy to include the new version in a forthcoming hymnal.

Language Obsolete

The commission is composed of members representing churches of the National Lutheran Council. It is not bound by the recommendation but convention officials said it most likely would agree because the ULCA is the largest church group in Lutherandom.

Opponents of the new version said the King James Bible is a work of art not to be quickly tossed aside and that the newer version should not be hastily accepted until it meets the test of usage.

But the Rev. Dr. T. A. Kantonen of Springfield, Ohio, told the convention "we cannot condemn God to speak the language of 300 years ago. The purity of the Word is at stake. The Lutheran tradition has always been to have the scripture in the language of the people."

Church Must Lead

And the Rev. Dr. L. H. Steinhoff of Portland, Ore., president of the Pacific Synod, asked:

"Are we to have one language for our people and another for our church? Are we to further differentiate between Sunday worship and Monday living? In visual aids and in promotional material, our NAHMA—Miss Beatrice Turek of Waukegan was called home this week due to the illness of her parents.

Weekend guests at the Homer French home were Mr. and Mrs. George Lesselyoung and son Keith and Mrs. Ruth Lefebvre of Green Bay, Miss Katherine Harvey of Rhinelander, John French, Mr. and Mrs. William French and La-Vona French of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bennette and family of the Soo spent the weekend at the Fred Popour Sr. and John Schwartz Sr. homes.

Mrs. Harry Smith was admitted to St. Francis hospital Wednesday for x-rays.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bennette left Friday for Detroit where they will visit with friends until Sunday. From Detroit they will go to Anderson, Ind., where they will be employed by the American Playground Service company.

Wilmer Bennette is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Paul in Masonville while the Wallace Bennettes are in Indiana.

Roland Bramer returned Wednesday from Duluth, after having been employed on an ore carrier.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moore and Mrs. Edwin Peterson were called again this week to Marquette due to the serious condition of Jimmy Moore, a polio patient at the clinic.

Shortly after Rev. Steinhoff spoke, the three-hour argument quieted, delegates prayed briefly and voted to accept the new version which now is widely used in Protestant churches of the world.

U. S. Delegation Ready To Meet Opposition Of Reds In UN Assembly

By A. I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the U. S. delegation to the U. N. Assembly shape up the work program to meet expected Russian opposition on Korea and other Assembly items in their first organization meeting today.

Acheson, his five fellow U. S. delegates and their four alternates were to gather at the U. S. mission's headquarters in Park Avenue this afternoon about the same time Soviet foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky and high-ranking Russian helpers were due to land from the Queen Elizabeth.

Democrats Hope To Get $30,000

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Democrats today launched a campaign to raise $30,000 to pay for last-minute campaign television and radio programs.

The State Central Committee approved the drive at a meeting here yesterday after a financial report showed the treasury nearly empty.

Treasurer Orrin K. Grettenberger of Okemos reported that the party campaign fund was down to about $1,000. On Oct. 3, he said, the cash balance was down to $4,799, and expenses since then have reduced it by more than $3,000.

He added, however, that contributions were coming in at a good rate to keep the party solvent. He estimated that the party in Michigan will have spent $150,000 on the campaign by the Nov. 4 election.

(4) Divulging confidential commercial or economic information to unauthorized persons.

(5) Becoming unduly involved ("for example, through frequent luncheons, dinners, parties, or other expensive social engagements") with persons outside the government with whom the officials did business.

Douglas disclosed that he has set an arbitrary $2.50 cutoff on the worth of any gift that he will accept. Anything estimated to cost more than that goes back to the sender, he said. He reported this policy has kept him free of major involvements, "with a minimum of spiritual wear and tear."

Father Rescues Two From Flaming Home; Dies With 3 Children

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—After leading his wife and youngest daughter to safety, a heroic father perished with his three other children while trying to rescue them from their flaming home.

Burned to death shortly before dawn yesterday were Glen A. Largent, 40, a disabled World War II veteran, his daughter, Glenda, 13, and two sons, Glen Jr., 9, and Gary, 6. Largent, mechanic, limped from wounds he suffered in action in Germany.

Upon discovering the flames, he first helped his wife, Myrtle, 36, and another child, Renda, 2, to safety. Then he dashed back into the flames to the second floor bedroom where his three other children were sleeping. The floor collapsed and the father and children dropped into the flames.

Exiled King Accused Of Treason In Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The independent newspaper Al Akhbar today said exiled King Farouk will be charged with treason for allegedly asking Britain's Army to quell the Egyptian Army coup last July that forced the monarch off his throne.

Al Akhbar added that Britain decided not to interfere in the Egyptian crisis after President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, on the advice of U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery, strongly opposed any British action.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said last night he had no comment.

His basic training is preparing him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

Japanese Track Russian Planes

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
An Air Base in Northern Japan (AP)—The commander of the Japan Air Defense Force today said Russian planes are tracked daily on radar at this base and that the Soviet craft "from time to time" fly over Japanese waters.

Brig. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey said in an interview that approaching Russian aircraft sometimes cause alerts at this base.

"Sometimes our planes take off on alerts and sometimes we just sit tight to see what will happen," he said.

Thunderjet watch planes kept on the line and ready 24 hours a day, he said, and can be aloft three minutes after an alert.

"By purpose or accident, Russian planes from time to time fly over Japanese territorial waters," Gen. Spivey stated.

"The Russians are doing a lot of gunnery practice and training," he added.

"They have them there—they have them there and all over."

Car Hits Big Black Bear Near Kinross; Both Suffer Damage

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—A bear and an automobile collided on US-2 near Kinross yesterday. Both suffered.

The car, driven by Howard B. Elliott of Cheboygan, was badly damaged and had to be towed to a garage. Its radiator, hood, fenders, front bumper and grill were caved in.

Extent of the bear's injuries weren't determined.

Evidently it was a bad blow, however, Elliott said the bear staggered when it got up and weaved off the road into the woods, knocking down a small marker post in its progress.

Elliott said it was a "big, black bear," weighing perhaps 500 pounds.

He said the animal had walked in front of his car.

Man With Two Arrows In Back Not Wounded

EAST TAWAS (AP)—A hysterical woman motorist screamed to police Sunday she had seen a man slumped over in a woods with two arrows in his back.

This is the bow and arrow season for deer.

State troopers went speeding to the scene. There they saw a man slumped over, two arrows appearing to protrude from his back.

But what they found was a drunk hunter, two arrows sticking from his hip pocket, where he'd put them for a quick grab, if needed.

Guns Quell Trenton State Prison Riots

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—About 20 knife-wielding convicts barricaded themselves in a wing of Trenton State Prison last night in a two-hour riot that was quelled by machine-gun blasts.

Two prisoners were injured by ricocheting bullets fired over the rioters' heads by correction officers who smashed through a barricade of stools, tables and wooden scaffolding.

Guards Rescued

Three guards had been held as hostages, but were rescued unharmed in this fourth major outbreak in the prison this year.

The rebel convicts, described as "extremely desperate" long-termers, holed themselves up in Wing No. 7 upon their return from their evening meal, and, after locking 300 fellow inmates in another section, tried sawing their way to freedom, one of the hostages said. But they gave up in their escape attempt when their makeshift hacksaws failed them.

Rebels Shout Defiance

Shouting defiance to prison officials, the rebellious band proceeded to break up portions of the wing. But a preliminary examination of the cell block showed that there was no serious damage.

The door to the wing was forced partially open by correction officers, and one of them managed to squirm through. He was covered by submachine-gun fire. Other guards followed and forced their way up each of the five tiers of cells.

Correction officers gained control of the wing, and the overhead blasts of machine-gun fire ended the rebellion two hours after it started. The rioters were placed in segregation cells.

Safety Corps Force Of 145,000 Formed For Japan Defense

By JOHN FUJII
TOKYO (AP)—Japan gets its first postwar defense force this week.

Seven divisions (110,000 men) of the National Police Reserve and two divisions (35,000) of the Maritime Safety Board (Coast Guard) will be reorganized Wednesday into the National Safety Corps.

The khaki-clad troopers, now armed with light tanks and observation aircraft, were recruited shortly after the outbreak of the Korean War.

The police reserve was formed to help in defense of the Japanese islands after the U. S. 24th, 25th and 1st Cavalry Divisions were rushed to Korea to stem the Communist invasion of South Korea.

U. S. Uniform Copied

The reserve is patterned after the U. S. Army, equipped with 3.5-inch bazookas and light artillery. They were uniformed in olive drab uniforms copied from U. S. government issue but made in Japan.

Food is provisioned to suit the Oriental palate but camp discipline and routine are strictly G. I.

The sea-going branch of the Maritime Safety Board has been outfitted in blues like those of the U. S. Navy but with the traditional Japanese Imperial Navy cap.

The sea forces will be organized into three fleets utilizing the 18 U. S. Navy frigates and 50 LSSL (landing ship, support, large) which the American government has leased to Japan.

Will Patrol Coast

Japanese Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida will head the National Safety Corps as director-general. He will be assisted by a deputy director-general of cabinet rank.

Former Japanese Army, Navy and Air Force personnel up to the grade of lieutenant colonel have been recruited to bolster command echelons.

The basic mission of the National Safety Corps is defense but it may be called out in times of national emergencies and disasters. The sea-going branch will patrol the irregular Japanese coastline against smuggling, aid vessels in distress and perform other functions of a coast guard unit.

Nixon To Speak On Red Menace

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Richard M. Nixon concentrated today on the writing of a major speech, reportedly on the danger of communism, for nationwide television and radio broadcast tonight.

The Republican vice presidential candidate set other campaign matters aside for the day. The address will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System television network and the American Broadcasting Company's radio network at 8 p. m. (EST).

Nixon's appearance tonight was arranged by the Republican National Committee, which said it was acting because of the public response to the California senator's dramatic TV-radio explanation of his expense fund three weeks ago.

During Columbus day observances here yesterday, Nixon said his running mate, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is recognized internationally as the one man who can unite the free world.

When leadership was needed in the past, Nixon said, "sometimes the Democratic party furnished it, and sometimes our party furnished it."

But today Eisenhower is the one man recognized "who can join the free world in a great crusade . . . that would extend beyond the free world to those who want to be free," Nixon said.

mittee, Ben Guill, Eisenhower's Texas campaign manager, said he respected Garner and was sorry he felt that way.

Bids For Votes

"Dear Sam," Garner wrote his old crony Rayburn from his home in Uvalde. "Thank you for your interesting letter. You can say that I will vote the Democratic ticket straight from top to bottom."

The text of Rayburn's letter was not released.

Eisenhower opens his bid for Texas' potent 24 electoral votes tomorrow morning in Houston, Texas' biggest city. He speaks deep in the heart of the blackland cotton belt at Waco at noon, flies to Lubbock in Far West Texas for a mid-afternoon rally and doubles back by air to populous San Antonio in South Texas for a night meeting.

He speaks in vote-loaded Ft. Worth and Dallas Wednesday.

Police Hunt Culprit Who Held Up Fire Call On Traverse City Line

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Sheriff's officers are trying to track down today the culprit who held up a party telephone line and prevented calling of a fire department until it was too late to save a home on fire.

Failing to yield a party line in an emergency now is a violation of law. The legislation followed several instances similar to that which occurred yesterday in Grawn, 10 miles south of here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sweet reported that they tried seven to eight minutes before they were able to get a caller on their party line to hang up so they could call the fire department. In the meantime their home burned down.

THE HELL BOMB

Will Examine Four Doctors

Four Delta County doctors have been mailed notices to report for pre-induction physical examinations Nov. 5, the Delta County Selective Service board said today.

The doctors, whose orders were mailed Saturday are Dr. Norman L. Lindquist, Dr. Donald H. Boyce and Dr. Gilbert W. Benson, of Escanaba, and Dr. Adel Berto Bernier, of Nahma.

Earlier Dr. Emerson Ryde of Escanaba was given a pre-induction examination at Milwaukee. Reports from Milwaukee have not been received as yet, Mary Wagner, draft clerk, said this noon.

Pre-induction orders for 15 Delta men and induction orders for 16 Delta County men will be mailed within the week. These also will report Nov. 5 at the draft board office.

The December draft call has not been received here yet.

a determined protest against this new case of violation of the Soviet state frontier by American military aircraft and demands that the government of the U. S. A. adopt measures to prevent violation of the Soviet state frontier by American aircraft.

Relations Ragged

The new controversy is the latest in a series of incidents involving U. S. and Soviet planes in both Europe and the Far East. It comes at a time when American-Soviet relations—as a result of the ouster of U. S. Ambassador George Kennan—are at the lowest point in the 20 years the two nations have recognized each other.

The previous aircraft incidents caused heated diplomatic exchanges between the two countries. Kennan also protested July 27 showing American planes going against Soviet Air Day posters depicting three of the incidents and down under Soviet fire. The ambassador refused to attend the annual Air Day show because of the posters.

Distress Call Heard

U. S. Air Force officers in Japan said their last contact with the plane that disappeared Tuesday was a distress call. A crewman was heard to shout, "Let's get the hell out of here," just before the bomber vanished from the radar screen.

At that time, they said, the plane was in Japanese water flying over the narrow strait between Hokkaido and the Kuriles. Search planes later found an oil slick in the area where the plane disappeared.

Out Our Way

U-M Club, School Officials Meet Here Tuesday

School officials of Delta County are meeting with members of the Delta County University of Michigan club for a dinner meeting tomorrow noon.

Dr. Wayne L. Whitaker, secretary of the University's medical school, will be the guest speaker. He is making a tour of Upper Michigan to encourage more U. P. students to study medicine because of a shortage of doctors in this area.

Prof. Harold Dorr of the U-M political science staff, who directs the university summer sessions, also may be here to speak. He is scheduled to give the second lecture-discussion on "Campaign Issues in An Election Year" here Friday evening, and in Manistiquette Wednesday evening.

The meeting will be held in the Delta Hotel, beginning at 12:15 p. m. About 25 Delta persons are expected for the dinner.

These men were inducted in November 1950. They went to Korea with the 1903rd Engineer Aviation Battalion to build tactical airstrips for the 5th Air Force. Upon their return home next month, they will be separted from the service.

House Group Quizzes Head Of CIA About U. S. Red Infiltration

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, head of the Central Intelligence agency, is slated to appear today before the House Un-American Activities Committee at the Federal Building here.

Smith's appearance is the result of previous testimony Sept. 29 in the McCarthy-Benton slander hearing in which he stated he thought Communists are "so adroit and adept they have infiltrated every security agency of the government."

Smith made a later statement emphasizing he was merely pointing out the cunning of the Red forces and the importance of being ever alert.

Instructor Courses For Home Nursing Begin Wednesday

Miss Maybelle Sacher, R. N. from the Midwestern office of the American Red Cross in St. Louis will begin classes Wednesday, Oct. 15, at 4 p. m. to train volunteers to become instructors for the courses on Home Care of the Sick. These instructor-training courses will be taught in five sessions of six hours each. It is expected that they will be completed by October 22, after which time the instructors will be available to teach students and interested women of this area the courses in Home Care of the sick.

Eight Delta County nurses and teachers have volunteered to date for the Nursing Instructor Course. They are: Miss Viola Salo, Home Economics teacher in the Escanaba Public Schools; Mrs. Leo Brunelle, substitute teacher in the Bark River schools; Mrs. Edwin Bergman, former teacher; Mrs. Geraldine Van Enkevort, R. N., Bark River; Mrs. Mildred Bartol, R. N., Groos; Mrs. Carol Novak, R. N., Escanaba; Miss Virginia Raymond, R. N., Ford River; and Mrs. Elaine Anderson, R. N., Danforth.

The instructor-training course can accommodate 12 persons. Four more volunteers are needed to fill the class.

Home Extension groups, PTAs and church organizations or any other people who are interested in learning home nursing are asked to call the Red Cross chapter office in Escanaba. Every effort is being made to provide qualified instructors for this important project.

Fruit Rolls Soak Breakfast

QUICK FRUIT ROLLS combined with coffee give added enjoyment to a "last-minute" breakfast.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

You'll like these quick fruited rolls. They'll put "oomph" into your breakfast.

Quick Fruit Rolls
(Makes 14)

One (9-ounce) package mince meat, 1/2 cup water, 2 cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 3-4 cup milk (scant.) 1/4 cup melted butter, cinnamon.

Break mince meat into pieces. Add cold water. Place over heat and stir until all lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to brisk boil; continue boiling for 3 minutes or until mixture is practically dry. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift again.

Cut in shortening, until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk all at once, stirring until all flour is dampened. Roll 1/4-inch thick. Brush with melted butter and spread with mince meat. Roll up like jelly roll.

Cut in 1-inch slices. Place in greased muffin pans. Brush tops with melted butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 30 minutes until lightly browned.

Here's another easy recipe using dry mince meat in baking:

None Such Squares

One (9-ounce) package mince meat, 1/2 cup water, 1 egg, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 cup coarsely chopped nut meats.

Break mince meat into pieces. Add cold water. Place over heat and stir until all lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to brisk boil; continue boiling for 3 minutes or until mixture is practically dry. Allow to cool. Beat egg and add sugar, blending thoroughly. Add milk.

Sift flour once, measure, and sift again with baking powder. Add to above mixture gradually, beating until smooth. Fold in cooled mince meat and nut meats. Spread thinly over bottom of greased pan (8x8x2-inches). Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 20 minutes. When cool cut into squares.

—so long as you see they have a good time when they're with you.

Because most men your age are well experienced in dating by now, you would seem immature to girls your age. For that reason don't try to take them out on dates alone until you have mastered the art of dating and feel confident you can meet any problem that may arise.

Instead, ask one of your men friends to arrange for you to go on a double or triple date with him. Let him plan the whole affair, but keep your eyes and ears open to see how it's done. Let him get a "blind date" for you so you can start afresh, with no memories of past failures with girls you know.

When you do go out, make sure you are more than friendly. Try to be polite, agreeable, and amusing. People like a person who thinks of their interests and comforts, and they like to be amused.

To compensate for your inexperience in dating, it would be a good idea to spend more money for your dates than is usually necessary. Take the girls to a place where the food is good, where there is good music or entertainment, or where they aren't likely to go with other men. This will go a long way toward making the

You've Never Had A Date?
It May Be Your Own Fault

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

When a young person has no dates, it is usually his own fault. Either he has no interest in dating or he has not learned how to get along with the opposite sex. That is the problem facing the 21-year-old man who writes:

(Q) "I have never had a date in my life and it upsets me. I have a slight physical handicap which makes me very self-conscious. The girls seem to prefer other fellows to me. I am tall, well-built and friendly, but have no luck with the girls. Any advice you can give me will be appreciated."

(A) First, conquer the self-consciousness you have about your slight physical defect. Most of us have something wrong with us but we either cover it up so it won't show or we forget it. The girls probably won't notice it—or won't be bothered by it if they do notice

Mrs. Ahlgren Urges Participation In Youth Groups

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An appeal to members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to become leaders of Girl Scout and Campfire Girl troops, was issued yesterday by Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, of Whiting, Indiana, President of the Federation.

"We have two great agencies, the Girl Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls, which are giving girls many opportunities they would not otherwise have. Soon after the opening of school, these groups start their meetings, and I am thinking of them in these days, and hoping that the year ahead will provide them the necessary equipment to direct their lives into the proper channels. The future of America, in the long run, depends upon the youth of America."

"As a former Girl Scout leader, I know that there are hundreds of girls in the United States eagerly awaiting a chance to become Girl Scouts or Camp Fire Girls; but there are not enough leaders."

"Through our Youth Cooperation committees, we are urging each of our 15,000 clubs to help recruit youth organizations. Mrs. Howard Bary of Fort Thomas, Kentucky, is directing the senior division, and Miss Gerry Brown of Keyport, New Jersey, is in charge of the junior division of this project."

"Today many girls are not receiving the necessary equipment to give them a basis for good living and a good future. These two great character-building organizations, the Girl Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls, are equipped to supply these needs."

"I know that our women will respond and help supply the leaders for the troops."

Cash Benefits Total $37,000

The Schoolcraft County Veterans Counseling Office was instrumental in bringing into the county more than $37,000 in cash benefits during the past year, it is revealed in the annual report of Donald Messier, veterans counselor.

The report, issued last week, covers the period from Oct. 1, 1951, to Oct. 1, 1952.

"A good portion of this amount would not have been received were it not for the efforts of this office," the report states. "Consideration must be given to the fact that when a pension is awarded, it continues on for years, and the money involved keeps coming into the county year after year. Pensions awarded in previous years are still in effect, and are helping to increase the incomes of the residents," the report continues.

More Korean Veterans

Korean veterans have been contacting the office in increasing numbers during the past two months, Messier points out. "These veterans are entitled to most of the same benefits awarded to veterans of other wars. They must receive counseling in order that they may receive these benefits."

The report carries the following resume of the year's activities.

A total of 705 contacts were made with veterans and their next of kin in the past year. This includes Spanish American War Veterans, World War I, World War II veterans and Korean veterans.

A total of 376 letters were written for veterans and their next of kin.

35 To VA Hospitals

Twenty-four veterans were assisted in filing for Homestead Tax exemption. At an estimated saving of $30 per veteran, this represents a total of $720.

Four state bonuses were received by next of kin of deceased Korean veterans, amounting to a total of $2000.

Thirty-five veterans received hospitalization in Veterans Administration Hospitals during the past year. An approximate total of 735 days of hospitalization were received. The average cost per day per patient being computed at $15 makes a total value of hospitalization received amount to $11,025. This figure does not include the transportation charges to and from the hospital which were paid by the Veterans Administration and amounts to approximately $475.

Three veterans received hospitalization at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, with the Veterans Administration paying expenses in the amount of $660.

98 Get Local Treatment

Ninety-eight veterans were assisted in applying for treatment from local doctors and dentists. In addition to paying for the treatment, the Veterans Administration also paid for all medicines and drugs needed under this out-patient treatment plan. The estimated value of treatment and medicines amounts to $2940.

Four veterans were awarded total and permanent non-service connected disability pensions amounting to $63 each per month. This brings an annual amount of $3024 into the county.

Three next of kin were awarded widow's pensions, ranging in amounts from $48 to $63 per month. This represents an additional $1896 brought into the county yearly.

Two veterans were awarded service-connected disability allowances, ranging from $15 to $47.50 monthly. This amounts to $747 yearly.

Increases Obtained

Three veterans were awarded increases in their service-connected disability allowances, ranging from $22.25 to $48 per month. This is an additional $1539 annually.

One next of kin child was awarded a pension of $26 per month, which annually brings into the county $312.

Two dependent parents of veterans were awarded pensions of $35 each per month. This amounts to $840 yearly.

Ten next of kin deceased veterans have been awarded burial allowances totaling $1400.

Thirty-five veterans have been awarded $92000 in mustering out pay to date.

Fifty-six veterans and their next of kin made application to the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund. The total amount expended in the past year was $1959.38.

Plans For World Day Being Made

Plans for World Community Day, to be observed Friday, Nov. 7, at the Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian, are being made by the United Church Women of Manistique, it is announced.

Theme of this year's observance, "Building Lasting Peace," is taken from Christian Women's Action Program for Lasting Peace which also includes prayers, living democracy every day, and understanding and supporting the United Nations, (considered next to the church today's best instrument for peace), and disciplining "ourselves to share our abundance of spiritual and material resources."

In preparation for the observance, Christian women in Manistique are busy packing layettes and children's clothing for small youngsters they will probably never see. They are destined for war orphans in Korea and Japan and for displaced and refugee youngsters in Trieste, Belgium, Germany, Greece and Lebanon.

The women will take their bundles to the World Community Program where they will be dedicated to their gifts to peace. They will also make their year offering to be used this year partly for medicines and vitamins for children overseas and partly to support their own Christian Women's Action Program for Lasting Peace.

The first observance of World Community Day was held in 1943. Since then church women have observed the event not only with worship and words but with tangible evidence of their concern for the homeless and hungry in other countries. They have sent overseas in a few years more than a million diapers, a million bundles of shoes, clothing, towels, soap and school supplies, and contributed more than a quarter million dollars to support their work.

Arraign Two Men Here Saturday On 'Shining' Charge

Two local men charged with spotlighting deer were arraigned in local justice court Saturday morning, one admitting guilt and the other pleading not guilty.

Earl Gould pleaded guilty and paid fine and costs of $27.50. Charles Kandell denied guilt and demanded trial which was set for 10 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 14.

The two men were arrested Thursday night in Hiawatha township by Conservation Officer Ernest Derwin.

Spartans Own Longest College Victory Streak

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—With the unceremonious demise of Princeton, the mighty Spartans of Michigan State today owned the longest winning streak in college football—18 games—and they show no signs of letting up there.

Maryland and Georgia Tech each have gone through 18 games without a defeat, but they've been tied.

Michigan state still has six games to play so it's rather early to be predicting another undefeated season for them, but if they perform in the manner they did Saturday in hanging a 48-6 pasting on Texas A and M, their future opponents are not going to look to the Spartan games with any enthusiasm.

Six Games Left

State still has to meet, in order, Syracuse, Penn State, Purdue, Indiana, Notre dame and Marquette.

Until it took a 22-19 beating from Pitt, Notre Dame probably would have been regarded as a threat to Biggie Munn's lads, who next year start operations in the Big Ten. But the Irish looked bad against the Panthers.

Maryland and Georgia Tech

New Record For Penalties Set

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings and the Toronto Maple Leafs are banging each other heads again as well as the puck, and as a result they set a new National Hockey League penalty mark at Olympic Stadium last night in battling to a 4-4 draw.

Referee Bill Chadwick called 25 penalties, sending five players to the penalty box at one time in the final period. Bad blood long has existed between Detroit and Toronto and their games usually are high in penalties.

But the old penalty record of 24 was sent by the Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens here March 20, 1949.

As if there hadn't been enough rhubarb already, Goalie Terry Sawchuk protested the tying goal that came with just 45 seconds left to play. He insisted the puck hadn't gone all the way into the net.

The five-man mass penalty followed a wild swinging brawl between Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay of the Wings and Howie Meeker, Gordon Hannigan and Fernie Flaman of the Leafs. Hannigan drew a major penalty of five minutes and Lindsay drew a major, a misconduct and a game misconduct penalty. The others each got two minutes in the box.

Detroit goals were scored by Lindsay, Howe, Glen Skov and Johnny Wilson.

Ted Kennedy rammed in three Toronto goals, including the game-winning one. The other was scored by Ron Stewart.

For the fifth straight year the state of Ohio ranks as the nation's leading producer of harness horses.

Sophomores Lend Big Assist To Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—First came the smashing seniors of Michigan State's bull-dozing football team. Then their jolting juniors. Now it's their starting sophomores.

Where does the parade of brilliant ball-carriers that lifted Michigan State to a record winning streak stop?

Naturally, Coach Biggie Munn hopes it never does.

Naturally, the coaches of State's remaining foes—Syracuse, Penn State, Purdue, Indiana, Notre Dame and Marquette—hope it stops pronto.

After Coach Ray George of Texas A & M saw his lads whipped by Michigan State 48-6 Saturday in a nationally televised game, put it this way:

"It's not their first team that ended Saturday when Nebraska's hard luck kid, Bobby Reynolds, was hurt during the Cornhuskers' 27-14 triumph over Kansas State. This should narrow the race down to Oklahoma and Kansas, who meet head on this week.

Both warmed up to their tasks Saturday, the Sooners handily defeating Texas, 49-20, and Kansas annihilating Iowa State, 43-0.

In the traditionally mixed up Southwest Conference, things are traditionally mixed up. There isn't an undefeated team in the loop, which leaves things right back where they were in the beginning of the season, with defending champion Texas Christian still the choice by default.

Should Clear Up
The Horned Frogs go against Texas A and M this week. The conference goes into full-scale operations Saturday, so the picture should be somewhat in a week or two.

In the Rocky Mountain Conference, the eventual champion probably will be decided this week when Idaho State and Colorado State, the two top powers, tangle at Pocatello, Idaho, in the surprise leader in the Missouri Valley, after clobbering the defending champion University of Tulsa, 33-7.

Georgia Tech might get a tussle from Alabama and Tennessee for the Southeastern loop title, while Duke heads the Southern Conference, although Virginia remains unbeaten, too. The pair tangle in two weeks.

Giants And 49ers Leading Pro Football Conference

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants and the San Francisco 49ers, boasting the only unblemished records in the National Football League, ranked as the sole leaders of their respective divisions today.

The Giants moved into first place in the American Conference by defeating the Cleveland Browns, 17-9, yesterday, while the 49ers were thwarting their most formidable challengers, the Detroit Lions, 28-0. The victors now own identical 3-0 slates.

For the past two seasons the Giants and the Browns have battled for conference supremacy with the Cleveland forces emerging triumphant each time. New York has gone since 1946 without capturing a division title.

Stubborn Defense

The Giants' stubborn defense yesterday completely stifled the Cleveland ground game. The Browns could gain only 21 yards rushing, although they picked up 236 yards passing.

Three field goals by Lou Groza, one a 52-yard effort, kept the forces of Coach Paul Brown in contention as Cleveland led, 9-7, at the end of three periods. The Browns' field goal specialist sustained a head injury during the game and said afterward that he could not remember any of his kicks.

The Giants bolted ahead in the fourth period on Ray Poole's 25-yard field goal, then Tom Landry intercepted an Otto Graham aerial and pranced 30 yards for the winning tally.

Superb Passing

Sparked by quarterback Bob Williams, the Chicago Bears climbed into second place in the National conference by trouncing the winless Dallas Texans, 38-20. Williams completed 13 out of 15 passes, three of them for touchdowns.

Last year Biggie used two backfields (1) the workhorse unit that played the other team even for two periods and wore it down and (2) the pony backfield that came in at that point and ran up a comfortable lead.

Uses 12 Backs

This year he uses almost all 12 backs interchangeably in the three units. There's no real first string. Only quarterback Tom Yewic, can be called a full-time regular.

In this year's first two games Munn used only eight of his backs. They gained yardage when they had to and they managed 27-13 and 17-14 victories over Michigan and Oregon State.

Then came the unveiling of the other four backs in the fourth quarter last Saturday and their brilliance should aid Munn if he has any physiological problems with his top eight backs.

His better-known backs can't afford to relax with fellows around like sophomore halfbacks Bernie Raterink and Bert Zagers and freshman halfback Gerry Musetti and senior quarterback Willie Throver. That unit ripped off two touchdowns in the last 72 seconds on passes from Throver to Zagers and Raterink.

Sports Briefs

CHICAGO (AP)—John "Rocky" Ryan, Illinois end, took three touchdowns passes from Tom O'Connell Saturday and moved up to a tie with Harland Carl of Wisconsin in Big Ten scoring. The 18 points Ryan added in the Illini's 48-14 conquest of Washington gave him a total of 30.

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced each full World Series share voted by the champion New York Yankees was worth $6,026 and each full share voted by the losing Brooklyn Dodgers was worth $4,200.

New Hawks Win Third Straight

(By The Associated Press)

The Chicago Blackhawks apparently have ended their six-year role of National Hockey League pushovers.

The 1952-53 edition of the Hawks, coached by Sid Abel, former Detroit star, is kicking up quite a fuss in the infant season.

Chicago's long suffering fans got their first glimpse of the "new" Hawks last night and were pleased with what they saw. The Hawks defeated the New York Rangers, 2-0, to run their winning streak to three games and strengthen their grip on first place. During the previous six seasons Chicago has finished in the basement five times and fifth once.

The triumph boosted Chicago's edge to three points over the Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens who are tied for second place. The Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs battled to a bruising 4-4 tie while Montreal and Boston wound up a 1-1 deadlock.

Goalie Al Rollins, one of four players obtained from Toronto for netminder Harry Lumley, starred for the Hawks. Rollins came up with 30 saves in registering the first shutout of the season. Pete Eabando and Wee Willie Mosienko scored for Chicago.

Montreal and Boston waged a scoreless duel until the last period when Johnny Peirson netted for Boston and Bert Olmstead for Montreal.

Car Dealers Warned To Obtain Licenses For Auto Financing

LANSING (AP)—Auto dealers and firms financing car sales on installments were warned today they must obtain a state license.

The warning came from State Banking Commissioner Maurice Eveland.

Violators are subject to penalties ranging as high as three years in prison, or $5,000 fine, or both.

Eveland said that 3,812 licenses have been issued since the new licensing law went into effect last March 31, but that he believed a number of dealers have failed to register because they do not understand the statute.

The law is intended to protect the public by regulating interest rates and other charges in the installment buying of autos.

Lost 24 Lbs. REDUCES With Rennel

Mrs. E. Coon, R. No. 1, Big Rapids, Mich., writes, "Several months ago I started to take Rennel Concentrate and with its help have already lost 24 lbs. Being only 34 years old that weight loss means so much to me. I like Rennel because it does not make me sick as other medicines have in the past. Until I get my weight down to where it should be I will be a Rennel user."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain Liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel. $1.40 at your drug store now.

NEW YORK (AP)—Monday's football wash, and not a crying towel in the batch. They were all lent to Frank Leahy, Charley Caldwell and Ivy Williamson.

Any six-year-old television fan should have known Ohio State was going to upset top-ranked Wisconsin. After all, Ohio State had Hopalong Cassidy. Hoppy, a red-haired freshman who also answers to the name of Howard, ran for 113 yards and passed for 51 in the Buckeyes' 23-14 win over the nation's No. 1 ranked eleven.

You have to credit a goat with an assist but Navy won its third straight game of the season by beating William & Mary, 14-0. The three victories tie the best the Midshipmen have done in a single season since 1945. They were having their anxious moments, though, until their goat mascot, kidnapped last Thursday by Maryland students, made a surprise appearance on the field. Navy quickly scored the two winning touchdowns. The penitent kidnappers said they couldn't stand to see the goat miss Navy's homecoming. Navy plays Maryland Saturday.

It's beginning to look as if the 1952 Army-Navy game will return to its old-time stature. Army's legions are rolling again, wiping out memories of last year's cribbing scandal. Pete Vann led the Black Knights to a 37-7 rout of Dartmouth.

Quote, unquote: "Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach after upset win over Wisconsin: "The boys made a great strategist out of me, didn't they?"

The week end's passing honors should go to Illinois' Tom O'Connell, who connected for five touchdowns in the space of 20 minutes in whomping Washington, 48-14.

Frank Meriwell couldn't have provided a more thrilling finish than Yale's 35-28 victory over Columbia. Jerry Jones of Covington, Ky., scored the winning touchdown for the Eli in the final eight seconds after the game had been tied three times.

Miss Baker's 'Terror' Examined By Mr. Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It's very likely that even the most dedicated protagonists of racial equality will now give up on Miss Josephine Baker, the handsome colored lady who stirred up such a ruckus here a year or so back. And who became a somewhat clouded cause celebre in the more hysterical press over the fancied slight of receiving lousy service in a posh gin-mill.

Miss Baker, a true expatriate who has spent the best part of the past 25 years abroad, has now dropped anchor in Buenos Aires. She has given her blessing to a series of interviews in one of Juan Peron's house organs, critica, after an audience with the dictator and a visit to Evita's tomb.

Josephine endorses such quotes as: "The persecutions are more shocking than before World War II, with lynching, condemnations without trials and electrocutions the order of the day." She is speaking of America. How she would know about pre-World War II is rather baffling, since she lived abroad and was wed to a series of Frenchmen.

Quote And Unquote
"White men prate of democracy and civilization and send the Negro to die in Korea. In this horror of discrimination, where is democracy?" Miss Baker is quoted.

This is the first time I knew that we had an all-Negro military fighting for the United Nations in Korea. I could have sworn that a few white boys were listed on the casualty reports.

Miss Baker is quoted as saying: "In America they hunt Christ with a gun and hang him from a tree." I do not know what she means by this.

The dispatch says she based her statements on personal observations over the years. "I have personally seen many lynchings and much brutality. The horror of seeing men, women and children killed like animals will never fade from my mind."

"I was terrorized on my last trip home. They wouldn't let me live in peace. My brother-in-law stumbled into a white man whose son complained: 'Daddy, you promised me I could kill the next black I saw.'"

Citizen Of France
Miss Baker is quoted as having read the series in Critica, and as saying: "It's all unfortunately absolutely true."

Miss Baker sailed into New York a couple years back, equipped with about a quarter-million bucks' worth of fancy Paris frocks, confected by the Messrs. Christian Dior, Jacques Fath, and four or five other top Parisian courtiers. She dug into a suite at the Park Sheraton Hotel, quite a lavish establishment, and hired a press agent. I interviewed her at the time, and found her charming as an old expatriate who had supposedly done quite well with the French underground during the war. She is a French citizen.

She was hailed as hot stuff, was booked into a theater, skipped performances, and bailed out. She was booked also into a midtown night club and walked out on an opening performance because the dressing room didn't suit her. She was treated with the flourishing deference that we accord top-rung celebrities who have decided to return home after 20 years, to collect some cash. She never met Jim Crow socially. She traveled in drawing rooms with her white maid. The only rudeness she ran into was in Los Angeles, where she was arrested. He was fined $100 and apologized.

Was Well Treated
She raised a hellish rumpus in the Stork Club one night, supposedly for not getting fed and wine promptly, which is not unusual at the rush hour in the Stork Club, a saloon that makes a fetish out of barring the unglamorous. A loud-mouthed disc jockey put her on a noxious night-spot program to air her grievances against "discrimination" in the Stork, and what at the time was inferred to be a charge of physical abuse at the hands of Walter Winchell, who seemed merely to be minding his own business. Maybe she expected him to get up and slug Billingsley—I dunno. I wasn't mixed up in it.

That was about the sum of the mellowing entertainer's grievances in this country. She hasn't seen any lynchings. Nobody treated her mean. A shrill, left-handed newspaper tried to make an Eliza crossing the ice out of her, and succeeding in boring most of her own people to tears.

Since La Bakair is not a citizen, hasn't lived here for more than a quarter of a century except as an infrequent visitor, and is an abject liar in print, I would imagine that my good friends in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People will be forced to scratch one more Negro as undesirable to the cause of equality. One Baker, screeching for a foreign press, can undo a decade of sober progress as demonstrated by Jackie Robinson, Joe Louis and Lena Horne—Americans all.
